

The Judicial Election.

The returns received show that McKinstry has been elected Supreme Judge by a heavy majority. In some respects this result was unexpected. The period in the campaign in which the nomination took place was very late; the canvass was not actively carried on, except in the more thickly settled country, and in the more remote districts no organization had taken place. Notwithstanding this, the McKinstry vote nearly equals that of the other two candidates.

This can be taken in no other sense than a strong endorsement of the Independent movement, and of Gov. Booth, its head and front. Two elections, following so rapidly, the one after the other, and won, show, at least, that the new party has become a power; that it has organization, and strength, and all of her qualities necessary to perpetuate its existence.

This election will render secure the election of Gov. Booth to the United States Senate. Not that it adds directly one supporter to his party; but indirectly it will turn the hesitating and the halting toward him. No so great assistance to any cause, as victory. The Independent party and Gov. Booth are in the full tide of success. This party is the party of the future in California. It has taken up what was alive and worth vivifying in the old Democratic party, and breathed new energy into it, and it will now receive the support of many who heretofore have held back.

Prize-Fighting.

This morning's dispatches chronicle another of those disgraceful challenges which are a blot on the civilization of the nineteenth century. Pugilistic encounters have been for many years recognized as the acme of manly sport, and the brutes who, with bull-dog courage, make a living out of bearing punishment, have long been lauded to the skies as heroes. Only a few weeks ago the lines brought news of one man being disfigured beyond recognition, and yet being forced by his backers to stand up and receive more punishment from the fists of his fellow-brute. Today the telegraph announces that Joe Coburn will fight Tom Allen for a large sum of money. Enthusiasts may talk of the high state of training to which the men are brought; may extol their shining flesh and their bursting muscles; but no thoughtful man can ever approve of this perfection of physical manhood being attained solely to destroy and batter it for money. The lowest gamblers and thieves attend the exhibition, and the better class of society is only represented by weak, vicious youths, or sons of a degraded aristocracy. Doubtless the fight will take place, and be duly chronicled with all the low slang phrases that are part and parcel of the disgusting performance, and another victory or defeat will be added to the lists of America's foulest blot—the Prize Ring.

Election Specials.

The Herald went to press shortly before 6 o'clock on the morning after the election. No one but those who have had to do it can know how wearying, and almost endless is the labor of collating election returns. Through the special State dispatches which were received by THE HERALD ALONE, the public was placed in receipt of the most accurate information in regard to the result. By means of these dispatches the Express was enabled to issue a "Special," work on which was commenced immediately after a copy of the Herald could be obtained. With the exception of a few unimportant county precincts the material for the Express special (?) was obtained entirely at the expense and labor of the Los Angeles Daily Herald.

LICUOROUS PLANT.—This plant, it is said, attains entire perfection in the soil and climate of Southern California. D. B. Clarke, of Montecito, Santa Barbara county, is growing it in his tree nursery, and writes of it as follows: "The root is from a quarter to an inch in diameter, and ten to fifteen in length with many lateral roots. It is an annual, the stalk sprouting up and dying out each year similar to the blackberry. It takes about three years for the roots to attain full size and perfection, when they completely fill the ground, though they may be used the first year."

Whether the plant can be made of commercial use, remains to be tested.

The abundance and cheapness of American petroleum have not seriously depressed the production of coal oil in Scotland. There are in that country 68 oil works, which consume in the year 782,000 tons shale or bituminous coal, and produce 21,850,000 gallons of lamp oil, 5,000 tons of paraffine, and 600 tons of sulphate of ammonia. Formerly the coal used yielded 120 gallons of crude oil to the ton, but the supply of that quality is exhausted, and shales are now worked which yield not more than from 15 to 35 gallons per ton.

The Joe Walker mine near Havilah is soon to be operated. The water has been lowered.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Interviews this morning with some of the shrewdest capitalists here, who keep outside of all speculative ventures, develop their conviction that bottom has been substantially reached in the stock market. While more or less violent fluctuations are probable, they say the downward turn will henceforth be short and confined to large amounts of stock, and upward turns small and for large amounts. Regular money-lenders evidently hold their own views, and come into the street for the first time since the panic to buy stock for personal investment. Several of the heaviest and soundest commercial houses are telegraphing their European and Canadian clients to forward orders for any description of stocks, as the time has come for flattering investments.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of State Granges of Patrons of Husbandry in the Mississippi Valley is being held at Keokuk, Iowa, to-day, with representatives from Iowa, Illinois, Kansas, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Wisconsin.

Joe Coburn says he will fight Tom Allen in West Virginia or in Canada for $2,000 to $2,500.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16th.—One of the most extensive dealers in the country said to-day that exporters were taking every bushel of grain they could obtain. His house alone, was receiving 100,000 bushels of wheat each day, which is immediately sent abroad. He thinks that the Produce Exchange is virtually outside of Wall Street influences, and that any difficulties in the money market which are occasioned by stock speculation, will not materially affect dealers in produce. People of Europe want bread and they will get it if they are compelled to send gold for it. He concluded by saying that the prospect for continued brisk trade was good.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Latest returns from the Iowa election make the vote on the State ticket much closer than the first news would indicate. The Tribune publishes a table of majorities in 43 counties, showing Carpenter, Republican, for Governor, 4,525 ahead—a falling off from his vote of two years ago, which, if equalled in the rest of the State, will make the vote very close, if not defeat him. The anti-monopolists have undoubtedly carried the Legislature on joint ballot, and probably both houses.

WEST VIRGINIA.

WHEELING, Oct. 16.—Last evening Major J. Sweeney, assaulted and beat O. S. Loge, the editor of the paper here, for the abusive articles which he wrote in yesterday morning's paper. Last evening's issue contains further reflection on Sweeney's character, and after 11 o'clock Sweeney met Louis Baker the proprietor, and J. S. Clarkson the local editor of that paper, and after some words all three drew and firing commenced. Baker was slightly wounded and Clarkson's arm was broken. Baker and Clarkson then took refuge in a store. There will probably be more shooting before the polls close. Sweeney is a candidate for the Legislature at the election to be held to-day.

OHIO.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16.

The State ticket is still in doubt, with chances favoring the Democrats by a small majority. The Senate and House will stand about 15 Democratic majority on joint ballot.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 16th.—There is nothing reliable known up to noon as to the progress of the disease, but there is an impression that few new cases have occurred. There were no reports of any other cases of yellow fever.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Horrible Murder by a man in delirium tremens. Races at Oakland. Fatal Collision between a barouche and a car. One man and two horses killed. Duret's Balloon. Scientific Association. A supposed corpse in a deadly trance. Probable final ending.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16. About one p. m. a horrible murder was perpetrated at the corner of Drum and Clarke streets, by John Ryan, with an axe. He struck and nearly severed the head from the body of Owen Gillen, while his victim lay sleeping on a bench. The motive of the murderer is not known. He is a mulatto. Officers arrested all the parties found on the premises at the time.

There was a large crowd at Oakland Park this afternoon to witness the running race, best 3 in 5 for a purse of $500, between Thornhill, Nell Flaherty and Osceola. Thornhill took the first heat—Time, 1:44; Osceola, second; Nell Flaherty, third. Thornhill was the favorite in the pools, from the first. Nell Flaherty took the second heat—Time, 1:45; Thornhill, second; Osceola, third. On the last heat, while scoring for a start, Osceola balked and acted badly, but finally got away. Third heat and race was won by Nell Flaherty—Time, 1:45.

After the race, in a general rush for the street cars going to Oakland from the park, a car full of passengers collided with a barouche driven by a man named Daley, keeper of a livery stable at Oakland Point. The barouche was made a complete wreck. Daley fell between the carriage and the car and was killed. A car horse had one leg broken; one of the horses of the barouche was fatally injured. None of the passengers in the car were hurt.

Duret's balloon is named the New World, is 85 feet from the bottom of the basket to the top, and contains 65,000 square feet, with a capacity for two tons. It will ascend on Saturday at 4 p. m., with Mons. Duret, M. K. Stevens, proprietor City Gardens, I. M. King, correspondent of the New York World, and Hull and Bunker of the Bulletin. The ascension is for the purpose of discovering the supposed eastern air current, and if found, to test it. One day's provisions will be taken with them, and the trip continued as far eastward as practicable. Record will be kept each minute of the barometer, thermometer, altitude, current, etc. The proposed large transcontinental balloon will hold 400,000 feet of gas, or one-third more than the Graphic balloon.

Second Dispatch.

The name of the man who killed Gillen this afternoon, is Floyd Bell, not Ryan. Ryan is the name of the man who keeps the saloon where the murder was committed. Bell is laboring under an attack of delirium tremens. It is probable he was in that condition when he perpetrated the horrible act.

A lady residing on Leavenworth street was taken very ill on Monday evening, and on Tuesday afternoon, to all appearances died. Four ladies went to the house yesterday morning to prepare the body for burial, and were applying cold water to the supposed corpse, as is the custom of the Jewish people, when the body suddenly moved, and the lady opened her eyes and spoke, asking for her babe. The people were frightened half out of their senses, but finally sent for a physician. To-night the lady is quite low and in danger of actual death.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Flour unchanged. Wheat, $2 15 @ $2 25. Barley, $1 37 @ $1 65. Oats, $1 45 @ $1 65. Corn, $1 32. Butter, 40 @ 50 cts. per pound. Eggs, 50 cts. per dozen. Cheese, 10 @ 14 cts. per pound.

SAN DIEGO.

The Election. McNeely Carries the County for District Judge.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 16. The Union has received complete returns from fifteen precincts of San Diego county, including the mining districts of Julian and Banner. The aggregate vote of the precincts yet to come cannot exceed 150 with a probable majority of fifty for the Democratic ticket. The vote of the county now stands as follows: Supreme Judges, Dwinelle, 342; Brunson, 352; Keefe, 582; McKinstry, 56; District Judge of the Eighteenth Judicial District, Rolfe, Republican, 418; McNeely, Democratic, 497; Hayes, Independent, 70. The vote everywhere shows a considerable falling off from the September election. It is quite likely that polls were not opened at all in two or three of the outside precincts.

BAKERSFIELD.

Fearful Excitement. Frightful Murders. A Treacherous Spaniard. Two Men Severely Wounded and one Killed. The Murderer Tracked. Hunted Down and Slain.

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 16th.—At the San Emidio Mill, Kern county, on the night of the 12th, an unknown Spaniard stopped at the cabin of McGill and Funk. During the night, Fred Stillman, who slept with the Spaniard, was awakened by the fellow stabbing him. Mr. Stillman gave the alarm, and his brother Caspar Stillman came to his assistance. He was stabbed in the neck, killing him instantly. Mr. McDonald, the engineer of the mill, who was sleeping in the same room, received several severe wounds, which may prove fatal. It was evidently the intention of the Spaniard to rob the cabin, and to accomplish this it would be necessary to kill the occupants. During the excitement the murderer escaped, taking with him Stillman's rifle. Not understanding how to use it was the preventive of a tragedy. The day following parties pursued the desperado, and finding him in a thicket within half a mile of the scene of the murder, he fired one shot without effect; he then closed upon him before he could fire a second shot. He made a desperate resistance with his knife, but was finally mortally wounded and died two hours afterwards.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Deep Sea Sounding. Interesting Statement by a U. S. Officer.

VICTORIA, Oct. 15. The United Steamer Tascara arrived here a few days since for coals. The following is a brief account of her late trip, furnished by one of her officers.

We took our departure from Cape Flattery on the morning of the 17th ult, and between that time and the 30th, ran a distance of 1,114 miles. On the great circle route, between Cape Flattery and Ateha, in the Aleutian group, we sounded several times inside with a 1,000 fathom line, more for the purpose of thoroughly testing the working of our apparatus than for any other reason. When at the distance of 207 miles from Cape Flattery, the depth of water suddenly decreased from about 1,000 fathoms to less than 600 fathoms, showing the existence of a submarine mountain, nearly 2,500 feet in height. From this mountain to the position of our last cast, we found the surface of the ocean bed to increase in depth in a ratio of about a fathom to the mile. The last cast was in a depth of 2,534 fathoms, in latitude 53 degrees 56 minutes, longitude 153 west. When having but a small amount of coal on hand, we put back for this report. Our apparatus worked admirably. Sir Wm. Thompson's machine with piano wire is undoubtedly the best apparatus for sounding purposes now known. At each cast specimens of the ocean bed, and of the under surface water were brought up, as well as the temperature of the water within a few feet of the ocean bed.

At each cast boats were sent away from the ship, and the set and strength of the under surface, and surface currents determined. After coaling she will put to sea again with as little delay as possible, and sound as much further to westward as possible before her winter gales set in.

SAN BUENAVENTURA.

The Election.

SAN BUENAVENTURA, Oct. 15. Returns are in from the four principal precincts. McKinstry's majority in the county will probably be 100. Wason, Republican candidate for County Judge, is elected by an overwhelming majority.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 16.

The election passed off very quietly yesterday. Wm. H. Brady led the field for Justice of the Peace, his majority over Ord being 17. McKinstry's majority over Brunson was 22 and 56 over Dwinelle.

Arizona News.

From the Arizona Miner, of the 11th inst., is taken the annexed news:

Salt River Valley people are thinking seriously of organizing a farmer's grange, for the purpose of influencing government contractors to bid for contracts at living rates.

OUR TELEGRAPH LINE.—We see it stated that six parties are now at work putting up wires, poles, etc., between San Diego, Cal., Prescott and Tucson, Arizona.

A Mr. Ladd, at work on the San Diego end, claims that some ten miles of the line were completed from San Diego out, before a pole was raised in Prescott, which, if so, is bad for Mr. Ladd, as it is said, somewhere in the Bible, we believe, that "the first shall be last."

Advices from Tucson inform us that the poles were in readiness.

The first of November may see the line completed. If not, that Christmas Day will dawn upon the event.

Should business justify us, we will, whenever possible, choke the Miner, with "the latest news by telegraph."

Hon. Mark A. Brigham died in Tucson Sunday evening Sept. 24th, of old age, and was buried on Monday, the 25th. The deceased was seventy-one years of age. He was born in the State of New York, but subsequently settled in Warsaw, Hancock county, Illinois.

We are informed that he was three times a member of the Illinois Legislature, and served with Lincoln, Douglas, McDougall, Baker and other distinguished men who have since written their names high on the roll of fame. He came to California in 1849, and we believe engaged in mercantile pursuits. Of his history while there we are not informed. He came to Arizona in the latter part of 1855, and has since resided in Tucson. He was the first American merchant in this town, the first postmaster and the first alcalde.

We hear that Vasquez, the California murderer and outlaw, passed a recent night in Prescott, and left early next morning in the direction of the Verde. A large reward is offered for his arrest. He rode an iron-gray horse. Men have gone in pursuit.

In Los Vegas, New Mexico, a mob of some 200 men recently attacked the office of the Gazette, shot and severely beat the editor, Louis Hommel. After which, these brave, manly fellows gallantly seized Mr. Hommel's house-keeper, Doña Trinidad Aris, dragged her out into the streets and pounded her with clubs. But a few days before, the office of the Advertiser, of that place, was entered and the forms "piled." It is probable that Los Vegas is not peculiarly adapted to the cultivation of newspapers.

J. M. Bryan, who arrived here a day or two ago from Ehrenberg, requests us to inform the public that, henceforth, he will have a freight train at Ehrenberg, upon the arrival of every steamer, and will load it from the steamer, a move which warrants him in offering to bring freight to Prescott for five cents per pound.

Education of Girls.

Society is constantly agonizing (?) over the improper training of young women, without suggesting any practical remedy. How to substitute industry, economy and robust health for idleness, extravagance and pale-faced beauty is a problem easy of discussion, but difficult of practical solution. A remedy can come but from one source, and that source must be the action of intelligent, common-sense mothers; mothers who will cut loose from the stereotyped trammels of fashion, and who will devote themselves to the full, real, physical and mental development of their daughters. A great struggle is now going on in San Francisco to secure better industrial training for girls, and the subject has called forth an able article from a correspondent of the Evening Post, signing himself "Old Saw," which is worthy of careful perusal. The portion of the letter which seems most to the point, is here subjoined:

As girls are at present trained and educated they are totally unfitted for the practical duties of life; this all must admit who duly consider the subject. The whole system is wrong from root to branch—as wrong for those who are well provided for and who do not expect to earn their own living, as for those who have nothing but themselves to depend upon for a livelihood. Let them be first taught that "efficiency" is not beauty, but that robust health and perfect physical form are the perfection of beauty; that physical culture and development are as essential for one sex as for the other, and absolutely imperative for a life of health and enjoyment. Then let girls be taught in professions and callings that will develop the physical nature, make them self-reliant and independent—able to "hoe their own row"—and not be the helpless, worthless dolls they are at present. The graces and refinements need not be neglected; and a real lady may be none the less so, because she is competent to stand up independently and fight her way with the stern sex in the battle of life, able to fulfill all its duties as well as enter into its highest enjoyments. Let the girls as well as boys be taught practically how to live, and with this be taught the means of securing a living; that labor of the proper kind is a pleasurable accomplishment—not a drudgery; and that by means of it only can they be fitted for the pleasures as well as the responsibilities of life.

Milk as a Remedy.

Considerable has been lately said in medical journals concerning the value of milk as a remedial agent in certain diseases. An interesting article upon this subject lately appeared in the London Milk Journal, in which it is stated on the authority of Dr. Benjamin Clarke that in the East Indies warm milk is used to a great extent as a specific for diarrhea. A pint every four hours will check the most violent diarrhea, stomach ache, incontinent cholera and dysentery. The milk should never be boiled, but only heated sufficiently to be agreeably warm, not too hot to drink. Milk which has been boiled is unfit for use. This writer gives several instances to show the value of this simple substance in arresting this disease, among which is the following. The writer says: "It has never failed in curing in six to twelve hours, and I have tried it, I should think, fifty times. I have also given it to a dying man who had been subject to dysentery for eight months, later accompanied by one continual diarrhea; and it acted on him like a charm. In two days his diarrhea was gone; in three weeks he became a hale, fat man, and now nothing that may hereafter occur will ever shake his faith in hot milk." A writer also communicates to the Methodist Times and Gazette a statement of the value of milk in twenty-six cases of typhoid fever, in every one of which its great value was apparent. It checks diarrhea, and nourishes and cools the body. People suffering from disease, require food quite as much as those in health, and much more so in certain diseases where there is rapid waste of the system. Frequently all ordinary food in certain cases is rejected by the stomach and even loathed by the patient; but nature, ever beneficent, has furnished a food that in all diseases is beneficial, in some directly curative. Such food is milk. The writer in the journal last quoted, Dr. Alexander Yale, after giving particular observations upon the points above mentioned, viz: its action in checking diarrhea, its nourishing properties, and its action in cooling the body, says: "We believe that milk nourishes in fever, promotes sleep, wards off delirium, soothes the intestines, and in fine, is the sine qua non in typhoid fever." We have also tested the value of milk in scarlet fever, and learn that it is now recommended by the medical faculty in all cases of this often very distressing children's disease. Give all the milk the patient will take, even during the period of the greatest fever; it keeps up the strength of the patient, acts well upon the stomach, and is in every way a blessed thing in this sickness. Parents, remember it, and do not fear to give it if your dear ones are afflicted with this disease.

Curious Advertisements.

The following advertisements are from the Ulster County Gazette, of the year 1800. The original is now in the HERALD office, and the specimens offered herewith are sufficiently curious to speak for themselves:

FOR SALE.—The one-half of a saw-mill, with a convenient place for building, lying in the town of Rochester. By the mill is an inexhaustible supply of firewood. And also, a stout, active, healthy Negro Wench. Any person desiring to purchase, may know the particulars by applying to John Schoonmaker, jun., at Rochester.

SECOND NOTICE, of my wife Hannah, is hereby given, forbidding all persons whatever, from harboring or keeping her, and from trusting her on my account, as I am determined to pay no debts of her contracting. Matys Van Steenberg, Saugerties (Kingston Precinct), Nov. 18, 1799.

NOTICE.—Taken out of the store of Abraham L. Hasbrouck, about a year since, an excellent Gun—marked S. B. Any person giving information, so that the subscriber may get it again, shall receive two dollars reward, and reasonable charges paid, by John Wiest, Kline-Esopus, Nov. 2, 1798.

STRAYED.—A red bull, branded on both horns P. T. B. Any person having taken up said bull will be thanked, by giving information thereof to the Printers. Kingston, Dec. 14, 1799.

LOST.—A watch on Wednesday last. The person who has found it or may find it, will meet with a suitable reward by handing it to the Printers. November 16, 1799.

LUTHER ANDRES & Co. have this day, Been opening Goods both fresh and gay.

He has received near every kind, That you in any Store can find, And as I purchase by the Bale, I am determined to retail, For Ready Pay a little lower Than ever have been had before. I with my brethren mean to live; But as for Credit shall not give. I would not live to rouse your passions, For credit here is out of fashion. My friends and buyers one and all, It will pay you well to give a call. You always may find me by my sign, A few rods from the house divine.

The following articles will be received in payment: Wheat, Rye, Buckwheat, Oats, Corn, Butter, Flax, Ashes and Raw Hides. These articles will be taken in at the Esopus prices. Cash will not be refused. Wardink, Dec. 24, 1799.

WOMANLY MODESTY.—Man loves the mysterious. A cloudless sky, the full-blown rose, leaves him unmoved; but the violet which hides its blushing beauties behind the bush, and the moon, when she emerges from behind a cloud, are to him sources of inspiration and pleasure. Modesty is to merit, what shade is to figure in painting; it gives it boldness and prominence. Nothing adds more to female beauty than modesty; it sheds around the countenance a halo of light which is borrowed from virtue. Botanists have given the rose the name of "maiden blush." This pure and delicate hue is the only paint which Christian virtues should use; it is the richest ornament. A woman without modesty is like a faded flower, which diffuses an unwholesome odor, and which the prudent gardener will throw away from him. Her destiny is melancholy, for it ends in shame and repentance. Beauty passes like the flower of the age, which blooms and dies in a few hours, but modesty gives the female character charms which supply the place of the transitory freshness of youth.

During last week the chief engineer and President of the Santa Cruz and Watsonville Railroad were prospecting for a new crossing over the Sequel creek. The route will be a little lower down, north of the landing, and skirt the bay cliff some 1,700 yards throwing the dirt removed by grading over the bank into the sea.
